	1. Shortly after the begin	ning of the war in Ko	orea, a camain was started in Hungary to e	enlist volun teers i n a	medical corps to be sent to Korea. Thos surgeons, nurses, or me	edical assistants rece	eived 70 thousand forints for six months the group of 40 persons	s was replaced by anot	ther group. In April 1951, one of the written about it in the	groups returned and a	a great deal was
